Enact's Chief Human Resources Officer Susan Sullivan was recently named a 2022 Vanguard Award winner by premier industry publication HousingWire.

The HousingWire Vanguard award recognizes executives in the housing economy for their outstanding leadership in the space. HousingWire's 2022 Vanguards have led their respective organizations towards greatness while tackling challenges the housing economy has faced over the past 12 months.

President and Chief Executive Officer Rohit Gupta stated, "Over the past year, Enact has undergone a number of significant changes, including an initial public offering and a return to office following the COVID-19 pandemic. Susan's leadership has been a critical component of Enact's success as we built the necessary teams and functions for a public company, including creating our own Enact foundation. She consistently pushes to make Enact a more inclusive, supportive, and engaging workplace, and I am delighted to see her recognized with this award."
